

E-MAIL DISCLAIMER

Any electronic mail you receive from a director, employee or representative of any member of the DNI Group or any other person using an e-mail address of such member of the DNI Group, including any attachments thereto (the “e-mail”), is subject to the DNI Group e-mail disclaimer (“disclaimer”) set out herein.

The e-mail may contain information which is confidential, private, legally privileged or otherwise protected by law. If you are not the stated addressee (or such person’s authorised representative) you must –

- notify the sender of this fact immediately by return e-mail or by telephone and delete the e-mail from your system;
- refrain from printing, copying, forwarding or otherwise disclosing any information contained in the e-mail or any part thereof; and
- refrain from reading, storing or otherwise using any information contained in the e-mail or any part thereof for any purpose. Failure to do so may amount to the unlawful interception of a communication, the infringement of copyright and/or the infringement of the right to privacy, thus exposing you to criminal and/or civil liability.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this disclaimer, no member of the DNI Group, the sender of the e-mail, or any other representative of the DNI Group will be liable for any loss, damage or expense of any nature whatsoever (including without limitation that caused by the corruption or loss of data, damage to software programmes and interruption of business operations) resulting directly or indirectly from the transmission of the e-mail (including without limitation any malicious software code or viruses transmitted together with the e-mail, or any corruption to or loss of data contained in the e-mail).

Any views and opinions that may be expressed in the e-mail do not necessarily reflect the views and opinions of the relevant member of the DNI Group. If the e-mail contains infringing or offensive content, or was otherwise sent for purposes unrelated to the official business of the relevant member of the DNI Group, that e-mail falls outside the scope of employment of the individual concerned and that member of the DNI Group will not be liable for any loss, damage or expense of any nature whatsoever resulting therefrom.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the Electronic Communications and Transactions Act 25 of 2002, you specifically agree that, unless the Group or its representatives expressly state in writing that the content of the e-mail is intended to have contractual significance either wholly or in part, such communications shall not bind the Group in any way whatsoever. In other words, you agree that you may not rely on the e-mail, either wholly or in part, as constituting a contract between you and the Group unless the Group expressly states, in writing, that the e-mail is intended for such purposes.

Each member of the DNI Group reserves the right to read, monitor, access, block, delete, copy or otherwise intercept any e-mail transmitted to or from its mail servers.

The disclaimer is governed by the laws of the Republic of South Africa and will be deemed to supersede any terms contained in any e-mail received by a member of the DNI Group, insofar as these conflict with this disclaimer.

Please contact Lomus Smit of our Information Technology Department on 011 100 3800 or send him an e-mail on lomuss@dninvest.co.za should you have any queries regarding the disclaimer or e-mail received.
